

Rule Your Learning Journey With Varied and Self-Paced Training

In a recent VMware Learning poll, 34% percent of the 600 respondents preferred traditional instructor-led training to learn. One-third of respondents found self-paced On Demand classes to fit their needs perfectly. But the real winner of the poll was the fourth option: a combination of all three!

The flexibility of VMware Learning courses is what makes our learners so successful. Anyone can mix and match what works best for them. All our classes are taught by talented VMware Certified Instructors (VCIs). Every VCI works diligently to bring the course material to life, while allowing you to learn your own way. VCIs not only teach the classes but develop the exams that students must pass to gain their certifications. There's no one better to learn from.

Learning isn't a straight line. Everyone has busy lives, so VMware Learning makes it easy to learn and achieve your goals at your own pace. Our learning pathways foster individual growth through active learning. Each of the learning paths cover a particular VMware solution: App Modernization, Multi-Cloud, Network, Anywhere Workspace and Security. We are here to help you grow and validate your skills.

Are you ready to accelerate your career and prove your expertise in your chosen VMware technology? With 700 live online courses and over 65 On Demand courses, there's definitely an option that's right for you. Find a VMware course today and start learning.
